

" SCIENCE VERSUS RELIGION? "

Nah. Not a problem for a muslim.

Qur'an

Hadith

... over 1400 years...

Medicine

... no-one knows what the Source of All Goodness looks like, definitely not what man looks like...

Life, Death, Life... One sound (vibration) and all living/non-living things, the entire universe disintegrated and scattered (mountains reduced to dust)... Another sound everything scattered gathered, sorted and put back together...
... Sort of like electric pulses and text and images on your screen scattered and saved on your magnetic computer hard disk... Another pulse through that magnetic hard disk and everything scattered reorganized, pixel by pixel, on your screen...

Chemistry
zakat tax system

... there used to be 'smoke' in the heavens later the 'earth separated from the heavens'...

Geology

Hajj: also saying no to racism...

Algebra

The same information passed throughout mankind's history around the globe, amongst different peoples. Some forgot, others altered it into fantasies for more amusement.

The Originator and Fashioner of Forms, the Source of all forces leading to motions... Motions patterned into energy forms or into other forms coming together to build up atoms and particles... Atoms and particles still involved in motions patterning them into molecules, light and so on... Motions interacting with our senses and resulting in all the shapes and proportions we know as our universe, as existence...

Maths
... Prophets... gifted children... intelligent thinkers... scientists... scholars...

Physics

round earth

The Wise Source of ideas and intelligence to the human mind, responsible for the entire universe as we know it... Human arguments on the universe:

"Is there other intelligence equal or more than ours out there?"

"Can we create artificial 'life'?"

Hijab: long hair/short hair, clean face/bearded face, hairless chest/hairy chest, hairy/not-hairy... everyone's equal respected and free
